Mortgage on a property is a key component to the sucess of the transaction. The ability to spread the cost of the survey into the mortgage is an advantage and should be negotiated with the vendor. Financial products are no match for knowing upfront what you are buying and paying taxes on.

Survey costs can be claimed as a capital expense in the tax year the property is sold. Contact your accountant for details